Talented Teens Win Trip To National 4-H Congress

Miss Evans

Miss Lockridge

Four Campbell County girls have won trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago the weekend after Thanksgiving.

They are among some 30 outstanding 4-H youths selected by the Cooperative Extension Service to represent their state at the congress.

The four are Ann Pesine Fleming, 18, of Concord, Patty Lockridge, 16, of Lynchburg; Layton Evans, 18, of Concord, and Jean Tillotson, 16, of Lynchburg.

Miss Fleming, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fleming, won top honors in the bread project sponsored by Standard Brands Incorporated.

"When the community needs a breadmaker, I feel qualified to help," said Miss Fleming. She proved it by making more than 500 rolls in one baking session for a community event.

Miss Lockridge will be the guest of Eli Lilly and Company, which sponsors the health project. Miss Lockridge showed excellence in this endeavor by devoting three years of volunteer work at Lynchburg Training School and Hospital.

During this time she worked closely with patients and even organized a junior olympics and awarded ribbons. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lockridge.

Miss Evans, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Evans, is the winner in conservation of natural resources, a project sponsored by John Deere.

"Layton is conscientious and dependable," said Anna B. Elcan, extension agent. "She has done much to strengthen the county 4-H programs and encourage others to conserve natural resources."

Miss Fleming

Miss Tillotson

In addition to planting pine seedlings, Miss Evans has given numerous demonstrations, radio talks and set up exhibits at club meetings to emphasize conservation.

Miss Tillotson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Tillotson. She won top honors in entomology sponsored by Hercules Incorporated.

"She has conducted two county-wide entomology workshops and did an outstanding job with them," said Carey E. Carson, extension agent.

Fidelity Buys Bonds

The Fidelity National Bank, with headquarters at Lynchburg, is joint syndicate with The Bank of Virginia, has purchased through negotiation $12,600,000 Portsmouth, Va., general obligation bonds.

The proceeds from the bonds will be used for various purposes including schools, highways, public buildings, urban renewal, water, and sewers.

Report Farm Changes To ASCS Office

Changes in the number of acres being farmed can mean changes in farm records at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office. And that means whenever a farmer buys, sells, leases, rents, or otherwise acquires or disposes of farmland, he should drop by the county ASCS Office as soon as possible thereafter to set the records straight, according to Appomattox County ASC Committee Chairman, J. P. Alvis, Jr.

Records are kept on farms participating in programs administered by ASCS. Major ASCS programs in Appomattox County are: Wheat, feed grain, tobacco, and the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP).

Mr. Alvis pointed out that the ASCS office must keep accurate records on total acreage of all farms where owners or operators participate in any ASCS - administered program. In addition to those named above, ASCS administered farm programs in Appomattox County include price-support loans on commodities such as wheat, corn and soybeans.

"If a farm is constituted differently now than it was when the farmer began program participation -- and if he hasn't yet reported the change -- then he should drop by the County ASCS Office on his very next trip to town to make the report," Mr. Alvis said.

"Also, if a farm has changed owners or operators in that period, a report should be made to the county office," he said.

The ASC Committee Chairman emphasized that changes need be reported only by farmers participating in one or more farm programs administered by ASCS.

Salvation Army Breakdown

A family came to The Salvation Army office on Christmas Eve. They are traveling to the mother's parents' home, where they planned to stay until the young father could find work. Their car had broken down along the way and their last few dollars had gone for repairs and gas. There was nothing left for food.

They were given dinner and lodged for the night in a local hotel. In the morning, they were surprised with a Christmas tree and toys and candy for the two boys, aged 2 and 4. They went on their way with new hope.

Geared to meet emergencies, The Salvation Army's Christmas Program helps many who would otherwise have a joyless holiday. Help them help others by sending your check today.

Detailed Maps Aid Country

Virginia has taken the lead among 35 states cooperating with the Federal government's program to have more detailed topographic maps of the entire continental United States by 1977, according to Dr. James L. Calver, State Geologist with the Department of Conservation and Economic Development at Charlottesville.

This outstanding achievement is the result of an accelerated mapping program, begun in 1962 with the full support of the Conservation Department, the Governor and the General Assembly.

The program calls for increasing map coverage by the "7.5 minute quadrangle series," -- topographic maps that provide more than twice the detail of existing 15 minute quadrangle maps. At present, 79 percent of Virginia is covered by the 7.5 minute series, with 100 percent coverage expected by mid 1972. This will place Virginia first among states for availability of more modern and detailed topographic map coverage, Dr. Calver said.

The cost of the program is shared equally by the Commonwealth of Virginia and the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior.

Topographic maps are playing an increasingly vital part in Virginia's growth and development and that of the nation.

By way of recent and dramatic example, topographic maps aided in the rescue of Virginia flood victims in the wake of hurricane Camille, when several hundred maps of the James River basin were provided rescue authorities by the State's Division of Mineral Resources. The maps were helpful also in assessment of property damange in flood-ravaged areas.

tion. The new legislation changes the concept upon which dependency and indemnity compensation had heretofore been based. The formula, wherein a set rate of compensation ($120) plus 12 percent of the basic pay of the deceased veterans' rank was payable, has been eliminated.

The new law establishes a standard table of rates related to the rank or rating held by the veteran at the time of his death or discharge, whichever is the later. The new rates will become effective on December 1, 1969; and will be reflected in the check received on or about January 2, 1970.

The minimum monthly rate payable under the new law is $167.

In addition, the law now provides for additional payments of $20 per month for each child below the age of 18, and $50 per month in the case of a widow so disabled as to require the aid and attendance of another person or is in a nursing home.
